

Crazy Newspaper launched

Crazy News, home of all weird and funny news stories is proud to launch its first newspaper. All major news items will be published in the newspapers. This is the place to be for all the fake news fans.

George W Bush presents his new staff

After buying the elections, George W Bush took advantage of this occasion to make some major changes to his administration. Yesterday he presented his new staff. These are the three biggest changes.

Department of Oil Securing

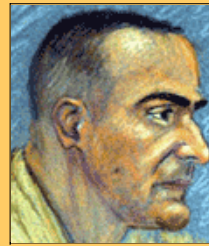

general Peter J Schoomaker
Middle East

Department of Education

Saeed al Sahaf
Yale

Department of Torture

sergeant Ivan Chip Frederick
Guantanamo Bay and Abu Ghraib

The department of Defense(Donald Rumsfeld) will be replaced by the Department of Oil Securing with headquarters in the Middle East. Donald Rumsfeld will retire after a successful carrier. The Department of Oil Securing will be led by General Peter J Schoomaker. This is his reward for his brave leadership in the war in Iraq. He will continue fighting for the good cause in the coming war in Iran in 2006.

Margaret Spellings of the Department of Education will be replaced by Saeed al Sahaf. From now on, all American children will learn true American values at school.

Most Americans already realized the American legal system was insufficient. That's why new methods were needed. Sergeant Ivan Chip Frederick had the brilliant idea to use torture. He was rewarded for this idea by getting the leadership of the Department of Justice. This Department has been renamed to Department of Torture. The headquarters will be situated at Guantanamo Bay and Abu Ghraib.

Politics

The Mastercard company will be sued next week for an advertisement campaign satirizing Bush. Page 2

Business

Richard Branson reveals in todays interview that Virgin Express will change its color to pink. Page 6

Religion

Scientists claim our universe was created in a simulation. Find out the truth on Page 7.

Science

It's now for sure: Aliens do exist. The truth is out there on Page 3.

Media

Doctor Thomas H Johnson finally reveals the mystical disease of Michael Jackson. More on Page 8.

Crazy Pet of the year competition

We at Crazy News have noticed that there was way to much serious and pessimistic news in 2004. That's the reason why we have decided to show you, as our new years resolution, that not the whole world is governed by aliens by starting a new and fun competition. It will be called the "Crazy Pet of the year" award.

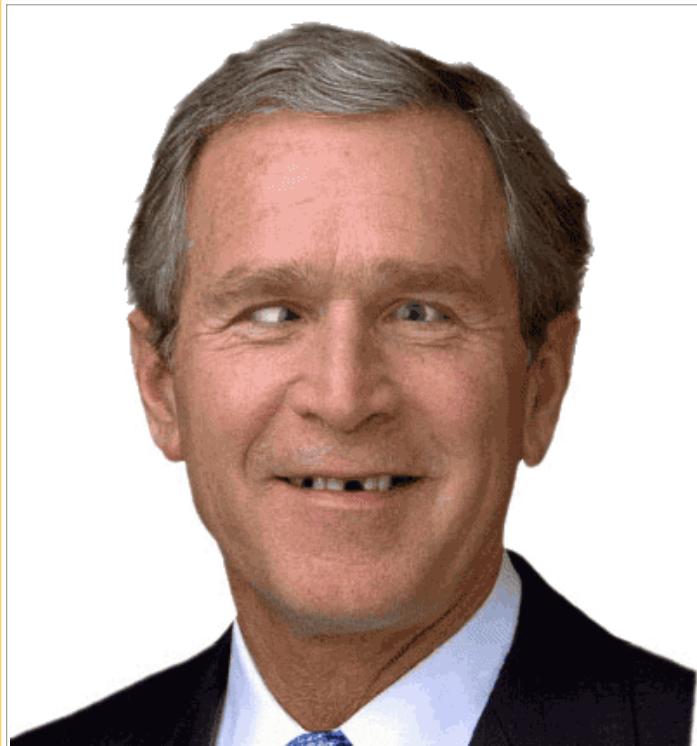

The first edition will be hold in the beginning of 2005. Every pet of a famous or less famous person will be able to participate in this contest. You can propose one candidate by posting a story about him or by contacting us. Every serious proposition will be considered.

After a few months we will pick five or six candidates amongst them and place a poll for exactly two weeks on this website. You will be able to vote once a day for your favorite candidate. After those two weeks the candidate with the lowest votes will be erased from the poll and a new poll will be issued until we have a winner: the Crazy Pet 2005. We at Crazy News, are looking forward to it.

The first serious candidate was proposed far before the start of this competition: Baxunia, the rabbit of George W Bush on Page 8.

George W Bush priceless

Next week, the Mastercard company will be sued by the government for the following advertisement campaign.

playing with economics: 50 billion $ playing with soldiers: 100 billion $ electing the village idiot as a president: priceless

They will defend themselves by saying that they have the right to express themselves however they want. This will probably not be accepted by the judges as this right is no longer valid after the recent judicial changes made by George W Bush.

George Bush presents his world atlas

After 80 days of 'hard' work, George W. Bush presents his newest achievement, a world atlas. The atlas will be available in three languages: English, French and German and will be sold in 79 countries. CN managed to arrange a short interview.

How did you come to the idea of making an atlas?

I noticed that my knowledge of geography was different than what other people knew about it. Everyone thought that I made a lot of mistakes. That's not true. Just try to look at it from my side. What I say is much simpler and should be the truth, and what others pretend is much more complicated and should be wrong.

Can you give us an example?

It's much easier to understand if I say that I'm going to Disneyland, than if I say that I'm going to Florida. Why shouldn't we change the name of the state then? That's why I created my own atlas, to let other people understand me and make the world much more simple. It's going to be called 'Atlas'. Original name, don't you think?

Of course. Do you want to say something to the American people before you leave?

Just remember my slogan: 'Don't think, vote Bush'.

We sure will. Thank you for the interview.

Terroristic alert

(George W Bush) "Our intelligence agencies believe that Osama Bin Laden is in possess of weapons of mass destruction. Two black knives, one fork and a telephone. That's why we activated the highest terroristic alert. We believe he is planning to attack civilians in their own houses, more exactly in the kitchens. We do not intend to scare you, but the highest precaution is required while entering your kitchen. Look carefully if you see suspected objects like knives, forks and telephones. If you see them, make sure no to touch them and contact the FBI immediately."

Statue of Liberty

George W Bush removed the Statue Of Liberty last week, assuming it had no use any more. It will be replaced by a huge oil derrick.

Theory of Evolution

I love monkeys, I look like a monkey and I act like a monkey, but my father ain't a monkey.
 (George W Bush)

3 proofs that aliens do exist

Do you believe in aliens or don't you? From now on, this question is outdated. I always felt they existed. Don't you remember, a short time ago, you were laying in your bed in the dark, and then suddenly you saw two eyes in front of you. You thought it was a dream, huh? It's not. It's now proven: aliens do exist! Here are the proofs.

1. Elvis is not dead

I saw him a few weeks ago on the market and he told me he was kidnapped by some aliens, who took him to their planet. But they did some weird stuff with his brain (but I couldn't understand what) and now he forgot most of it, that's a pity. But he managed to escape and now he's back on earth!

The problem was that nobody recognized him (he looked like a tramp and smelled a bit) and that he had no money. That's why he asked me to take a shower at my home (Elvis Presley took a shower at my place! What an honour!) and to give him some money to buy an airplane ticket to return to the States. BTW did you know that a ticket from Belgium to New York is worth 2000$?

That's a lot of money, but he assured me that he would repay me back including a "small" reward (he wasn't very clear about this, but I understood 10% of all his money) and he would let me stay at his place. And then he went away with the money, and from then on he didn't contact me. But my waiting won't be long, as he said he would send the money quick.

That's my first proof. And remember, Elvis Presley is not dead, he was kidnapped by aliens and he took a shower at my place!

2. Space travel is fake

If you always believed that humankind travelled to the moon and that Neill Amstrong was the first human to set a foot on it, then you're wrong. I was that stupid too, but after reading some articles on the internet, I realised it's so obvious that NASA is nothing but a huge conspiracy of liars. The whole moon thing is filmed on a soundstage in Nevada's Area 51, directed by Stanley Kubrick, who was forced to make the movie. The following is the classical view on the "space" history.

It all started with John F Kennedy. One of the reasons he was murdered by the CIA, was that he wanted to cancel the Apollo program. Too many people were going to make too much money from faking the lunar program, so Apollo had to continue.

The Soviet Union didn't win the "space race", because they lacked the filmmaking technology of the United States and thus were unable to fake their own moon missions. They really tried (!) to send real cosmonauts to the moon, but, as you can imagine, they failed. This is stated as the best proof that space travel is impossible with our human technology. You need at least extraterrestrial technology.

Nowadays, computer technology is so advanced that faking new space landings is a piece of cake. It's easy to imagine why George W Bush announced a new Mars program. NASA is right now remodeling the Area 51 soundstage. Apparently, the fat guy who directed the Lord of the Rings movies is in charge of the project.

But what I think is the real story, is that the United States had access to the flying saucer technology recovered at Roswell in 1947. So who forbade it? The aliens, is the only possible answer. They must have gotten control over America and maybe over the rest of the world. They forced Stanley Kubrick to make the fake space movies. Did you ever ask yourself why Bush makes such a weird decisions? The aliens made them for him!

--> continued on page 4

3. Saudi "women" wear burkas

--> continued from page 3

Did you really believe that Iraq was invaded because they owned weapons of mass destruction? You must be crazy! There are no such weapons in Iraq. To understand this problem, you obviously need more background.

Always felt sorry for those "women" in burka? Well, simply don't. Most of them are aliens, trying to hide their atrocious bodies. They're controlling our world from the Middle East. But the brave Iraqi people revolted against them, and the aliens needed support from American soldiers, because defending themselves would affect too much suspicion.

That's my third proof. And remember, the brave Iraqi people are revolting against the alien domination, and the American soldiers are helping them by oppressing the revolution. What a shame!

Ultramodern Dutch mowing machine

If you say the Netherlands, you imagine plains, lakes and windmills like on the right. But there is more than that. A large group of civil engineers developed a new sort of mowing-machine after several years of high technology research. The concept of this mowing-machine might seem quite ordinary, but its characteristics aren't.

Did you always have troubles to mow your grass? With this extraordinary mowing-machine, all your troubles will be gone in the minute.

This ultramodern invention needs no electricity cables, in fact it doesn't need any electricity at all! And no, it will never run out of gas, because it can run without it!

Aren't you convinced yet? Then this magnificent feature will convince you. This invention runs automatically, I mean, you don't have to do anything, you don't even have to configure it. It does all the work alone. You can just lay on your bed and relax!

This means that this mowing-machine is ideal for all those who hate to mow their grass, for those who always mow through their electricity cables and for those who have annoying neighbors. Annoying neighbors? I'll explain it. This invention makes almost no noise at all, that means no neighbors complaining. Simple, isn't it?

And what does this mowing machine need in order to work correctly, are you asking yourself now? Well, in fact, except for the grass and the water, it needs nothing at all. It only produces a white liquid, a real gift from heaven. You can drink it warm, cold or even make cheese of it. Isn't that great!

This mowing machine, consisting of 4 sheep, is now available for the unique sum of 999$. Be quick and order this month and you will have a chance to win the oldest cheese in the whole world, made by William The Conqueror himself! I wouldn't doubt if I were you!

Suicide Pill

New suicide pill KG-451 now available.
Side effects : headache, vomiting and itch.
Do not take more than once.

AdvertisementsWrite for us

Crazy News is searching for talented writers to write some funny and weird news stories for our website.
You just have to register on the main website to be able to write a story for us. You can find more information on our forum or by contacting us.

Advertise in this newspaper

Crazy News is searching for people who want to advertise in the Crazy Newspaper. Please contact us if you're interested.

How to keep your computer clean from viruses?

Do you remember that virus you had some time ago? The one that erased all your files. You thought you were secure? You just installed the new Norton Antivirus on you brand new Windows XP. Well, this is the best proof that those programs suck. Windows XP is just a bunch of security leaks and antivirus software is there to make money as long as possible. They have completely no use; their only effect is to slow down your computer.

So stop using all those useless antivirus programs, firewalls and data recovery software unless you would like to empty your wallet or unless you collect viruses. But this is very unlikely. My advice: don't be so stupid. Just throw them away as quick as possible. And never, never install them again.

The solution to this problem is very simple. So simple, that you might ask yourself why you didn't think of it. Computers are very similar to normal people. What are you doing to keep yourself healthy? You wash yourself. And there is no other way to keep yourself clean. You can be examined by doctors 24 hours on 24, if you don't wash yourself, you get sick. Even little children understand this.

As I said, with computers it's just the same thing. You have to wash them too. At least once a week to keep them clean. If you do it with our new CN computer soap, we will guarantee you that you won't get viruses on that computer any more. Never again! Isn't that magnificent?

Buy our new yellow CN computer soap for just 10$ and your computer will be released from viruses. This is much more efficient and cheaper than those unusefull and expensive antivirus programs. Buy it now and get a second soap for free.

Write for us or advertise in this newspaper

Crazy News is searching for talented writers to write some funny and weird news stories for our website. We are also searching for people who want to advertise in this newspaper.

To write stories, you just have to register on the main website. You can find more information on our forum or by contacting us.

Microsoft Windows

"That's one small step for me, one giant leap for hackerkind." (Bill Gates about Microsoft Windows)

C&C: Make War, Not Love

EA Games announces his newest game Command & Conquer: Make War, Not Love. It will be available in the beginning of next year at an estimate of 50$. A demo is coming soon.

Millionth security leak

Microsoft celebrates the millionth security leak in Windows.

"This is the most beautiful day in my whole life. And if I'm lucky, I'll be able to create another million of them." (Bill Gates making a birthday wish)

Crazy News virus

This is the new Crazy-News virus. Because we at CN lack the technical background, this is a manual virus. Please delete all files from your hard disk, destroy all back-ups and send this virus to everyone you know. However, Crazy News is not responsible for any damages you may encounter during this process.

Virgin Express goes pink

After several rumors, the news is now official. Sir Richard Branson (under) has decided to radically change the image of his company.

"Our very popular company name will subsist, but Virgin won't be any more associated to red. Much people had problems to associate Virgin to the red colour, so we decided to change it to pink, symbolizing the new revival of Virgin."

CN assumes that the whole fleet of Virgin Express will be repainted in the coming few months, other products of the Virgin company will soon follow. The first pink plane will depart tomorrow, more details are to be found here. The first pink Virgin cola will be available in the stores next month. Cheers!

Analysts claim that the pink colour will certainly be notified, but they don't dare to bet that it will result in a higher profit, considering pink isn't the most popular colour on this planet. But everything could happen if Virgin is able to change that attitude. Let's hope it for them.

McDonalds launches the McDisgusting salad

McDonalds got recently a lot of complaints about their unhealthy food by several health organizations. In the beginning they tried to get a new image by offering healthier food like salads. But after the movie "Super size me", they had quite enough of it and decided to give all those nutritionists a taste of their own medicine.

That's why the McDonalds company started yesterday a large campaign on their new flagship, the McDisgusting. They were always known for their originality, but nobody thought they would ever go so far. Instead of yielding to the big pressure of making healthier food, they just did the opposite and started this huge advertising campaign ironizing their ridiculous attempt to make healthy but disgusting food. McDonald's new slogan will be: McDisgusting, I'm hatin' it.

--> continued on page 7

McDISGUSTING

I'M HATIN' IT

Remarkably, the McDisgusting salad will actually be sold in all the McDonalds stores in the coming few months as a normal salad of the Salad Plus gamma. The McDisgusting includes a chickpea patty made from whole cooked chickpeas and vegetables blended with spices and combined with McDonald's selection of salad mix, low fat mayonnaise and a herb focaccia bun.

All together the McDisgusting contains just 10 grams of fat. The type of fat in the McDisgusting comes mainly from canola oil, a healthy mono-unsaturated type of fat and there is no animal fat. Importantly, McDonalds agree not to offer the McDisgusting with "fries and coke" as an extra value meal. The McDonalds 'Salads Plus' menu provides a selection of healthy food choices to complete a healthy meal including a yoghurt, fresh fruit and a choice of two salads. <-- continued from page 6

The simulation

Once, somewhere in some universe, John was annoyed. He couldn't get concentrated. All those stupid exercises! He hated his world. Then he suddenly thought if there possibly could be a worse world? At that moment he got the idea to start a simulation.

First he gathered all the information he needed to make such a simulation. He always knew his programming skills would become useful someday. He quickly programmed his simulation as only a few basic constants like mass and energy were needed and some simple input and output. Piece of cake. Just a few moments later, he started his simulation. Galaxies were formed in a few minutes. Stars began shining and planets began to form.

But then it stopped suddenly and he received the message that some potential intelligent life was discovered. And it all started here.

He already thought a long time about everything that was needed to make this new world worse than his own. His two basic needs were WRONG INFORMATION and EGOISM. Assuming the second one was already formed by evolution, he only focused at the first one.

That meant he had to avoid the truth as much as possible. His first idea was that the people he shaped should never know who shaped them. So he created the first of all his lies: RELIGION.

He gave a different religion to every group, but to all the same illusion: God. Instead of handling on their own, this believe learned them to trust in God and pray. It's obvious that this will lead to some major problems, and not only a huge waste of time.

Every group of religious people thinks they believe in the right God, strengthened by their initial egoism. They start to make war in the name of their Gods (God bless the Crusaders) to capture 'holy' places or just to destroy those 'unbelieving dogs'.

But religion was not enough for our John. That's why he created LANGUAGES, knowing this will only unable the communication and thus enforce the wrong information. This will enlarge the group effect, what means more wars.

John always wanted to become a writer. The only problem was that nobody bought the book he wrote, being a bunch of funny stories with no logic in it. He called it 'The Bible' and published it on Earth (that's how he called his new world) as a holy book and it became a bestseller.

As final act, to create more chaos, he creates news companies that distribute fake news stories like CNN and BBC.

But as time passed, he realized what a mess his experience made. John decided to stop all those lies to make our world a better place. And then came Crazy News ...

Always Coca Cola

(Important message from a Coca Cola employee.)

Last week I lost my golden teeth at work. It probably fell in a bottle. It's a family piece and thus very important to me.

If you find it, please contact me at golden_teeth(at)crazy-news.net.

Advertisements

Write for us

Crazy News is searching for talented writers to write some funny and weird news stories for our website.

You just have to register on the main website to be able to write a story for us. You can find more information on our forum or by contacting us.

Advertise in this newspaper

Crazy News is searching for people who want to advertise in the Crazy Newspaper. Please contact us if you're interested.

Michael Jackson has Mad Cow Disease

What many people always thought, was yesterday confirmed by a large team of doctors. According to doctor Thomas H Johnson (head of the team), Michael Jackson suffers from the Bovine Spongiform Encephalopathy (BSE), widely known as the Mad Cow Disease. A few weeks ago they came to the conclusion that Jackson appeared to have all the symptoms of this severe disease and the medical team immediately took a blood proof and came to this awful conclusion.

The exact cause of BSE is not known but it is generally accepted by the scientific community that the likely cause of BSE is cannibalism, which resulted in infectious forms of a type of protein, prions, normally found in animals. In cattle with BSE, these abnormal prions initially occur in the small intestines and tonsils, and are found in central nervous tissues, such as the brain and spinal cord, and other tissues of infected animals experiencing later stages of the disease.

Some rumors, which we will not hush up at Crazy News, say that cannibalism is the real cause in this case. According to these rumors Michael Jackson ate the foremost parts of his nose. This would have caused the formation of the malicious prions, and the beginning of the Mad Cow Disease.

There is no need to panic about this severe disease. It is very rare and the FDA and other federal agencies have had preventive measures in place to reduce the U.S. consumer's risk of exposure to any BSE-contaminated meat and food products. However, if you suffer from the combination of the same symptoms as Michael Jackson, you are strongly advised to contact the medical assistance immediately. Here is a list of the major symptoms.

- A very sudden change in the color of the skin. Most patients become totally pale.
- Making strange movements with legs and hands.
- Making weird sounds that look like a mixture of singing and crying.
- Waking up next to children you never saw before in your whole life.
- Standing in front of a mirror and not being able to conclude if you are a girl or a boy.
- Thinking that babies love to fly from balconies.
- Parts of the body, like noses, that begin to shrink suddenly.

Baxunia, the rabbit of George W Bush

That president George W Bush has a dog is widely known. But the fact he has a rabbit as a pet was kept top secret until now. The rabbit, Baxunia, has black eyes and a white-grey and very soft fur, according to Bush. And he follows the president wherever he goes in the white house. Bush really seems to care about him.

But apparently, general Peter J Schoomaker (Department of Oil Securing, former Department of Defense) is suffering from rabbitofobia; he is scared of rabbits and tries to escape from the room as soon as Baxunia enters it. According to many rumours, this is the reason why Schoomaker almost never returns to America and lives the whole year in his headquarter in the Middle East.

And why did Bush reveal his secret? Well, the FBI must have found out about our new award, the Crazy Pet of the year, with its first edition in 2005. We have completely no idea how they managed to do that, but at least we have our fist candidate for our Crazy Pet 2005.

Bill Gates wins the Crazy News Computer Marathon

Bill Gates (under) of Microsoft has just won the first edition of our annual Computer Marathon. Steve Jobs (Apple) was second. All participants had to run 42 km, carrying the whole time a computer (no laptop) with a self-made operating system. CN was able to make an exclusive interview with the winner.

What were your tactics?

I made a new operating system, Windows XP, Running Edition, especially designed to run a marathon. It analyses my speed, my position and my heart beat and gives me much information about it in the form of computer graphics.

We found this picture on the internet, and it proves that you have encountered a serious error during the Computer Marathon. What do you have to say about it?

It's obvious that the picture is manipulated. I noticed that much people hated that blue error screen, that's why I improved the stability of this operating system by changing the colour to green. It took one year of programming, but imagine how pretty it is. You'll just love to have a system error.

Didn't you have any virus problems?

No, the Microsoft team found an innovating way to stop virus attacks. Windows is now taking all the RAM of your computer, leaving no space for virus programs to be executed. Isn't that great!

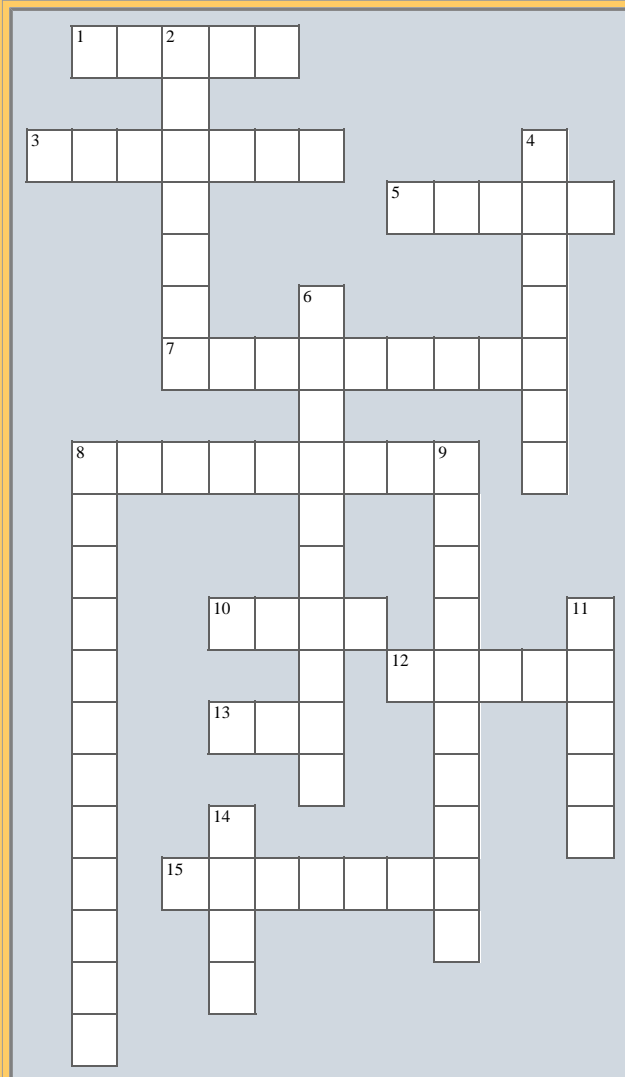

Crazy News Net

Crazy News launches his new television company. It will be called Crazy News Net. (CNN)

Important notice: in opposition to CN, all the crazy news items will be fake, totally not corresponding to reality. Everyone should fully understand this before watching CNN.

CN-fm

Crazy News launches its own radio station: CN-fm. You can now listen to our crazy news stories on the radio. We are broadcasting live from the local madhouse at 95.7 Mhz.

Crazy Crossword

Across

1. Winner of the CN Marathon.
3. Who filmed the fake moon landing?
5. New book of George W Bush.
7. Saeed al Sahaf will be the head of the department of
8. Microsoft celebrates the ... security leak.
10. The best way to get rid of viruses.
12. What can you find in a bottle of Coca Cola?
13. The mystical disease of Michael Jackson.
15. The location of the next terroristic attack, according to Bush.

Down

2. Sergeant Ivan Chip Frederick will be the head of the department of
4. Rabbit of George W Bush.
6. Head of the department of Oil Securing.
8. New salad of McDonalds.
9. "That's one step for me, one giant leap for"
11. Ultramodern mowing machine.
14. New colour of Virgin Express.

--> Interactive Java version